Dagsprogram

Day 1. Arrival in Ilulissat – guided town tour in the Arctic capital

We fly north to Ilulissat, beautifully located in Disko Bay – one of Greenland's most iconic towns. Upon arrival, we are transferred to Hotel Icefiord, where we check in and enjoy the view of icebergs right outside our window.

Our local guide then takes us on a guided town tour and introduces us to the town's history, culture and way of life. If time allows, you can visit the museum, shop for Greenlandic handicraft souvenirs or relax in the bar at Hotel Icefiord with a "Greenlandic coffee", which guarantees the Northern Lights.

In the evening, we gather for a cosy welcome dinner and raise a glass to the many adventures awaiting us.

Included meals: – / – / Dinner

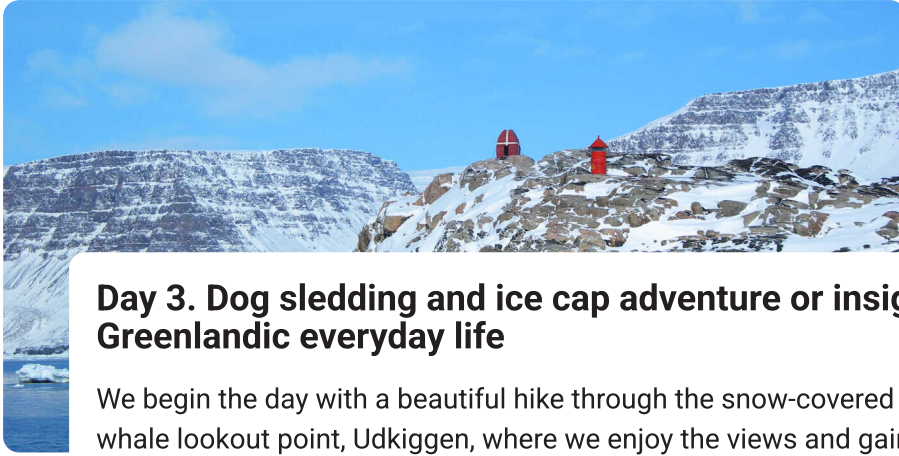

Day 2. Arrival in Qeqertarsuaq on Disko Island

After breakfast, we make our way to the harbour and board our boat for an adventurous journey towards Greenland's largest island – the impressive Disko Island. The island is the size of Zealand and is characterised by its dramatic, distinctive basalt mountains rising up to 1,000 metres just outside the town.

The sailing takes us through ice-filled waters, and depending on the progress of spring, we may experience how the experienced captain navigates the harsh Arctic seas and perhaps even have the opportunity to try breaking through the ice ourselves under safe conditions. The closer we get to Disko Island, the greater the chances of spotting the mighty bowhead whale, Arfivik, which migrates to the area at this time of year from Arctic Canada.

Upon arrival in Qeqertarsuaq – the only town on Disko Island – we check in at the charming Hotel Disko Island, consisting of small houses centrally located in town. The rest of the day is reserved for relaxation after a spectacular sailing journey that only few people experience.

Included meals: Breakfast / Lunch / Dinner

Day 3. Dog sledding and ice cap adventure or insight into Greenlandic everyday life

We begin the day with a beautiful hike through the snow-covered landscape to the old whale lookout point, Udkiggen, where we enjoy the views and gain an impression of the area's historical importance. The hike also takes us through parts of Qeqertarsuaq, giving us a good impression of the local community.

After lunch, the group splits up:

- The first half sets out on an unforgettable dog sledding adventure, gliding through the Arctic snow-covered landscape accompanied only by the sound of the dogs' breathing and the gentle scraping of the sled. Afterwards, a spectacular snowmobile trip awaits, taking us up to Lyngmarksbræen, located approximately 900 metres above sea level. Lyngmarksbræen is Disko Island's own ice cap, where you are captivated by the silence and the views across Disko Bay and perhaps all the way to Kangia Icefjord. We spend the night on the ice cap in a cosy wilderness cabin, heated by a paraffin stove, creating an atmosphere found nowhere else.
- The second half remains in Qeqertarsuaq and gains unique insight into everyday life on the isolated island. We visit a local sled dog driver and end the day with an intimate and personal evening, where a local resident shares stories about life, traditions and the harsh winter on Disko Island. Overnight stay at Hotel Disko Island.

Included meals: Breakfast / Lunch / Dinner

Day 4. The groups swap – dog sledding adventure and Arctic stories

The morning sun colours the snow golden on Lyngmarksbræen, where the first group wakes up in the warm wooden cabin. With a cup of coffee in hand, the sunrise can be enjoyed in silence – either from the warmth of the cabin or outside in the crisp, frosty air. The morning offers time to relax and take in the spectacular glacier landscape, where, on clear days, the view stretches all the way to Kangia Icefjord near Ilulissat and down towards the town of Qeqertarsuaq.

During the morning, the journey continues by snowmobile/UTV back to town, where the afternoon is dedicated to cultural experiences. We visit a local sled dog driver before ending the day with Greenlandic stories about winter, isolation and strong community spirit.

Meanwhile, the second group sets out on another unique dog sledding adventure and a spectacular ascent through the Arctic landscape towards Lyngmarksbræen, where they spend the night in the wilderness cabin – warmed by the stove and surrounded by views of ice, mountains and fjords.

Included meals: Breakfast / Lunch / Dinner

Day 5. Whale safari – meeting the majestic ‘Arfivik’

After an unforgettable morning on Lyngmarksbræen, where the second group enjoys the sunrise over the beautiful, frost-covered glacier, they are transported back to Qeqertarsuaq by snowmobile/UTV. At the same time, the group that spent the night in town has time to enjoy a peaceful morning and explore Qeqertarsuaq at their own pace.

When we are all gathered again, we set out for an exciting afternoon on the water. We sail into Disko Bay hoping for a close encounter with the impressive bowhead whale, Arfivik. This majestic whale, which can live for up to 200 years, grow up to 20 metres long and weigh up to 100 tonnes, is characterised by its distinctive round, “barrel-shaped” body – and in Greenlandic, Arfivik means precisely “the barrel-shaped one”.

The bowhead whale moves slowly and calmly, making it possible to get relatively close. Although the species was once close to extinction due to international whaling, it is now protected through regulated quotas limiting the number of annual hunts. At this time of year, the whales spend the winter in the waters around Disko Island, where we hope to have the rare opportunity to experience their majestic presence as they often rest at the surface of the sea.

Included meals: Breakfast / Lunch / Dinner

Day 6. Back to Ilulissat – world-class icefjord sailing

On the final sailing trip of the journey, we depart from Qeqertarsuaq and set course for Ilulissat. We dedicate the day to crossing the impressive Disko Bay and approaching the Iceberg Bank at the mouth of the UNESCO-protected Ilulissat Icefjord. Here we encounter gigantic icebergs rising majestically from the sea – a sight that takes everyone’s breath away.

Along the way, we may spot small boats fishing with longlines for the highly sought-after Greenland halibut. Our guide shares knowledge about life by the icefjord, hunting and fishing, as well as the climatic changes affecting the melting of the ice. It is a unique opportunity to understand the natural world around us and how it is changing.

Upon arrival in Ilulissat, we say goodbye to the ship and crew and are transferred to Hotel Icefjord, where we check in and enjoy a well-deserved night’s rest.

Included meals: Breakfast / Lunch / Dinner

Day 7. Sermermiut and Ilulissat at your own pace

Today we set out on a fascinating hike to Sermermiut, the ancient settlement located at the edge of the impressive Ilulissat Icefjord – Kangia. Sermermiut, together with Kangia, is part of a UNESCO World Heritage Site and was home to the Paleo-Inuit people for approximately 4,500 years. Here, three major cultures – Saqqaq, Dorset and Thule – lived and adapted to the harsh Arctic climate.

Along the way, we gain insight into the groundbreaking excavations carried out by the National Museums of Denmark and Greenland, which revealed both the presence and disappearance of early cultures due to climate changes, diseases and other factors. Today, few traces of the peat houses remain, but the site provides a strong impression of the conditions people lived under in this challenging part of the world.

From “Kællingekløften”, we enjoy a spectacular view of the icefjord and the majestic icebergs, making this a truly magnificent natural experience.

After the hike, you have time to explore Ilulissat independently, visit the impressive Icefjord Centre or simply enjoy the atmosphere of the town. A perfect ending to an unforgettable journey!

Included meals: Breakfast / – / Dinner

Day 8. Return journey to Denmark

The journey in Greenland is coming to an end. We say goodbye to the magnificent Arctic landscape and fly home filled with memories of majestic whales, dog sledding, icebergs and unforgettable natural experiences. In clear weather, we may catch one final glimpse of Disko Island’s dramatic basalt mountains, marking the end of an adventurous journey through the wonders of Greenland.
